International Show Opens November 25

Cattle Class Prizes Largest Ever Offered

The 51st International Live Stock Exposition will be held this year in the International Amphitheatre at the Chicago stock yards from November 25 through December 2.

Increased prize money for the show should help to encourage the exhibition of top livestock from both the United States and Canada, exposition officials reported.

Prizes for all cattle classes will be $61,370, the largest total ever offered. Many prize increases made in other breeds to mark the occasion of the golden jubilee show of 1949 are retained this year.

Dr. A. B. Weber, of Kansas State college, will judge the steers again this year. He is the only American to judge these classes since the exposition departed from the custom of having foreign judges two years ago.

Other features in connection with the international that have been familiar in the years since 1900 include the grain and hay show, recognized as the world's largest competitive showing of farm crops.

Farm Expenses Increased Five Fold in Past Decade

Farm expenses have increased almost five-fold over the past decade and not many farmers would care to return to the "good old days" of low expenses—if they had to accept the level of income that accompanied them.

This increase in cost of farm operation has been accompanied by some phenomenal changes in the composition of expenses. Machinery expense made up only 14 per cent of the total in 1935-39 while in 1947-49 it accounted for 21 per cent. Also, farmers are spending proportionately more for feed, fertilizer and crop expense than they spent 15 years ago.

These changes have been accompanied by a substantial increase in man labor efficiency on farms.

Improved Seed Flat

An idea that might be useful when growing next spring's plants is the seed box with removable sides as shown in the above illustration.

The sides are nailed together and attached to the bottom by means of hooks and screw-eyes. When the plants are large enough to be transplanted from the flat, the sides are unhooked and lifted up from the bottom, the soil with the plants in it remaining undisturbed on the bottom board. The plants are then easily separated and pulled up. When ready to use again, the sides are hooked to the bottom, and the flat filled with new soil. Very little root disturbance will result when the small plants are cut from the mass of soil with earth clinging to their roots.

Low Temp. Rendering Of Lard Is Recommended

Your home-rendered lard will be of better quality if you use a low temperature for rendering, nutrition specialists report.

A low temperature is needed to give the greatest yield of lard from the fat and to prevent scorching and sticking, which changes the flavor. Render the lard as promptly as possible after the carcass has been thoroughly chilled—preferably within 24 hours.

Ohio River Comes of Age; Nation's No. 1 Cargo Stream

The Ohio river's nine-foot-deep waterway has come of age. Its 21st birthday finds it the busiest cargo-hauling stream in America's 28,000 miles of inland waterways.

Because of the growth of industry and freight traffic along the Ohio artery, engineers now are studying the cost and problems involved in making a 12-foot channel.

In the ominous week before the financial crash of late October, 1929, the steamer Cincinnati, queen of a dwindling armada of Ohio river packets, led the first official voyage through the 46 locks and dams down the 981-mile length of the river from Pittsburgh to Cairo, Illinois.

The trip signalized completion of the nine-foot-deep channel. Proposed a full century earlier, the federal project had been in work for about two decades. Pittsburgh Huntington, Louisville and other cities joined in the pageant all along the route. In Cincinnati's Eden park on October 22, President Hoover dedicated the waterway and a system overcome deficiencies of Vitamins B, B, Niacin and Iron which HADACOL contains.

Here is Mrs. Braswell's own statement: "I have been sick for some time with stomach disturbances. I began taking HADACOL and I have been taking it about six weeks. I am so much better and much stronger. I will continue to take HADACOL. It sure has helped me. I tell my friends about HADACOL. I can't praise HADACOL too much. I am 55 years old."

Value Your Health More Than Riches

Some folks think that fine clothes and fine, big houses are the most important things in life but those things really don't mean too much if a person doesn't feel well enough to enjoy them. Most folks don't realize this, but Mrs. Lucy Braswell, of Route 2, Stone Mountain Ga., realizes it very well. Mrs. Braswell takes HADACOL and by taking HADACOL she found she is helping her system overcome deficiencies of Vitamins B, B, Niacin and Iron which HADACOL contains.

Here is Mrs. Braswell's own statement: "I have been sick for some time with stomach disturbances. I began taking HADACOL and I have been taking it about six weeks. STUDENT SPEAK OUT FOR GYMNASIUM

Here are a few comments and statements which express the feeling and thoughts of many A. H. S. students on the subject: "Why I think Appomattox High School Should Have a Gym."

June Holt comments: "Everyone says the same thing everytime this question is brought up. But the same thing still holds true. The community will be greatly benefitted, not to mention the school. Every person has an idea for what he thinks a gym could be used. Put these ideas together and there certainly would be reason enough to get one. If each person thought the gym would be used for something in which he was interested, he would be glad to contribute to this badly needed addition to the school. Everyone, start thinking and start talking!"

Dan Carson comments: "When competing with other schools which have gyms we do not stand a chance for the practice that is required to play basketball cannot be gained from a dirt court. A gym would not only give us a better basketball team but a place to hold Physical Education classes to meet on the bad winter days. Community spirit would be greatly boosted because it could be used as a center for all the community activities."

Sam Almond states: "I think we should have a gym for the health and recreation mainly. Also I believe the gym would benefit the community as well as the school and I think if each person would stop and think for a minute they too would see our need."

Lead Poisoning

The case of the bullets that killed a calf without ever hitting it is reported by Maine veterinarians—not as a contribution to mystery fiction, but as a warning to cattle owners. The Maine veterinary medical association says a calf died of lead poisoning after licking a target-practice board peppered with 22 bullets. Another report from the Maine organization tells of a case of lead poisoning in cattle due to chewing on an old piece of painted linoleum that had been thrown into a pasture. "Lead is lead from any source," the veterinary medical association warned. Most farmers are aware of the danger of letting animals lick lead paint, but they overlook the fact that lead in any other form may be just as attractive to cattle and just as deadly.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Dye, of Garfield, Ark., announce the engagement of their daughter, Norma Jean to Sgt. Braxton C. Garrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Garrett, of Appomattox, Va. The wedding date has not been announced.

MISS DYE ENGAGED TO SGT. BRAXTON GARRETT

The engagement of Miss Norma Jean Dye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Dye, of Garfield, Ark., to Sgt. Braxton C. Garrett has been announced by her parents. Sgt. Garrett is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Garrett, of Appomattox, Va.

The bride-elect, a 1948 graduate of Garfield High School, is a senior at the St. Joseph's School of Nursing, conducted by the Sisters of Mercy at Hot Springs.

Exotic Scheme

Gleaming black, flame red, forest green and mist gray supply the color keynotes for an attractive modern room. Walls and ceiling are painted mist gray. The woodwork is also done in the same gray except for the cornice board at the ceiling line. This is forest green, repeating the color of draperies and upholstery. Incidental chairs and tables are gleaming black. The flame red appears on the chair seats and in the rug pattern which also introduces gray and deep green.

Thawing Frozen Meat

All frozen meats may be thawed before they are cooked or during cooking. However, meat that is thawed at ordinary room temperature should be cooked promptly because the warm, wet outer surface is an ideal place for spoilage to start. If meat is thawed more slowly in the refrigerator, the surface remains cold and the thawed piece can often be held a day or longer without developing odors.

Handling Sweet Potatoes

Bruises and scratches on sweet potatoes resulting from rough handling provide openings in the potato skin for decay to develop.

HOMEMAKER'S ITEMS

Cut thin strips of potatoes. Brown slightly in hot fat. Press them in muffin tins and bake until done. Fill them with vegetable mix, creamed chicken—or anything you like.

Cut grapefruit in half. Remove every other section. Fill empty sections with strawberries or other fruits.

Pour lemon juice over bananas. Roll in toasted coconut. Toast in moderate oven. Use as a salad, or cut in fourths as a garnish.
